TEACHING EXPERIENCE

I have been an avid teacher ever since my postgraduate days. I attended a "Teaching the Teacher" course in London in August 2011.

I am involved in teaching and assessing Medical Students. This involves both non-clinical tutorial sessions and also ward based clinical teaching during the student's attachment to the Orthopaedic Department.

I regularly teach junior doctors preparing for the membership examination. This teaching incorporates objective structured clinical examination and communication skills practice.

As a Consultant, I regularly conduct formal teaching sessions as part of the teaching program for the junior doctors.

I have initiated and organised a Departmental Teaching Programme for junior doctors at The Royal Manchester Children and Southport Hospitals.

I lectured at the International arthroplasty conference in Sharm El-Sheikh

I regularly conduct formal and informal teaching at the bedside, outpatients, Accident and Emergency and theatre, utilising lectures, case presentations, clinical sessions, journal club, workshops and audit

I lectured at the British Society of Rheumatology and Leeds University in January on reconstructive foot surgery.

I lectured on Basic Surgical Training and Orthopaedic Regional Teaching at Mersey Deanery

CLINICAL SKILLS

- I completed a Foot and Ankle Fellowship at Leeds Teaching Hospitals with Mr. Nick Harris, and Mr. Simon Palmer Consultants Foot and Ankle Surgeons. Currently I am working as a Consultant in T&O with a special interest in foot and ankle and trauma surgery at South Tyneside Hospital.
- I am capable of confidently performing a wide range of surgeries in the management of foot and ankle including: hallux valgus correction surgery, mid-foot and subtalar fusion, total ankle arthroplasty, ankle arthroscopy, FDL transfer for tib. post insufficiency and surgery for ankle instability including the anatomical and non-anatomical procedures.
- In trauma I am capable of performing a wide range of trauma surgeries including complex lower limb trauma. I worked as a Senior Trauma Fellow, under the supervision of Prof. Peter Giannoudis at Leeds Teaching Hospitals, Level 1 Trauma Centre.
- I worked as an Arthroplasty Fellow and am able to perform total hip and knee arthroplasty
- I worked as a Paediatric Orthopaedic Fellow at Royal Manchester Children's Hospital. This has involved responsibility for elective and trauma paediatric patients. I am fully competent in dealing with paediatric trauma.

LEADERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT EXPERIENCE

I recognise the importance of being able to manage and lead in all situations and through experience I have undertaken activities to develop competent leadership and management skills.
